

Primary Years Curriculum

The primary Years Curriculum is concept-driven and inquiry learning at the heart. Inquiry is essentially exploring, wondering, questioning, experimenting, researching, and elaborating on solutions to problems. It involves the synthesis, analysis and manipulation of knowledge. Young children are individuals who are naturally curious. By stimulating this curiosity, we develop cognitive processes that form a solid foundation for future learning.

The curriculum strives to provide an engaging, safe, caring and child-centered environment for students.
